Gloucester City Public School District is exempt from New Jersey Sales Tax

According to the New Jersey Division of Taxation regulations:

Local school districts, as political subdivisions of the State of New Jersey, are exempt from the New Jersey Sales and Use Taxes, pursuant to Section 9(a) of the New Jersey Sales and Use Tax Act. Federal and New Jersey government agencies are not issued an ST-5 certificate. Proof of exemption is the government purchase order or contact and direct government payment.

When purchasing items from the use of the local school district, an exempt organization certificate is not required. The official letterhead of the school district signed by the proper school officer is sufficient proof to the vendor that the local school district is exempt from paying sales taxes.

Sincerely,

School Business Administrator/Board Secretary
