Current Assessment of the Mentoring Plan for Quality Induction (2017-2018 school year)

The Gloucester City School District mentoring program for the 2017-2018 school year included 13 mentor/novice teacher teams, 12 of the mentor/novice teacher teams started in September, one started in October. One team will complete one additional month (September 2018).

There were seven mentor/novice pairs at elementary level (PreK-5). The pairs included one CST team and six general education teams. One of the general education teams needs to finish the program next year because they started after September 2017.

At middle/high school levels (6-12), there were six mentor/novice teams: two math, one science, one English and two special education. All district teams remained intact throughout the school year and attended the scheduled, formal training sessions. Each mentor and novice teacher completed the district forms for confidentiality, monthly reports regarding topics discussed and workshop evaluation forms.

Gloucester City School District assesses the mentoring goals through lesson plan notations, the observation of growth in classroom management skills and instructional strategies employed from the beginning of the school year to the end. We will continue to use the data from previous years to help refine our mentoring program. In addition, we will use the application process that aligns with the state regulations to select mentors, reference New Jersey Student Learning Standards, NJ Professional Standards for Teachers and the elements of ESSA as we establish the learning components of the mentoring program for mentors and novice teachers.

Current Needs of District Mentoring Plan

Based on end of year Mentor/Mentee Survey results, most mentor and novice teachers felt that the program was worthwhile and that participation the program allowed them to build meaningful relationships and collaborate professionally. Both mentors and novice teachers identified that it was difficult to communicate effectively if they did not work in the same building. Both groups also requested additional time for peer observations, feedback and reflection.

Section 3: Vision and Goals

MISSION STATEMENT

“The educational process of the Gloucester City Public School District is the embodiment of visionary leadership, involved community, and individual needs. It will be characterized by a holistic approach, by technological innovation, and by the development of socially responsible citizens. All students in the Gloucester City School District will be able to demonstrate the skills as outlined in the New Jersey Student Learning Standards. The students of Gloucester City Schools will become contributing members of a changing economy and be prepared and committed to lifelong learning.”

EDUCATIONAL OUTCOME GOALS

As a base for our educational program and in accordance with the requirements of the State and Board of Education of Gloucester City, the following consultation with teaching staff members, pupils, parents and the other residents of this district adopts the following educational outcome goals for every pupil:

1. Will develop skills in reading, speaking, listening and mathematics.
2. Will develop self-respect and practice humanistic relationships in an environment of compassion and mutual respect.
3. Will learn how to research, examine, and use information.
4. Will acquire job entry-level skills and/or preparation necessary for further education, employment, and success as a producer/consumer.
5. Will understand and apply principles of health and safety, and demonstrate awareness of world health programs and communicable diseases.
6. Will acquire positive attitudes toward people of different cultural and ethnic backgrounds.
7. Will strive to appreciate various forms of art, music, literature and drama.
8. Will practice good citizenship and sportsmanship in all competitive activities.
9. Will develop technological skills needed to compete in a rapidly changing technological society.
10. Will enjoy the process of learning and acquire the skills necessary for a lifetime of continuous learning and adaptation to change.

GOALS OF MENTORING PROGRAM (96A: 9-8.4)

1. To enhance teacher knowledge of instructional strategies related to the New Jersey Student Learning Standards in order to facilitate student achievement.
2. To identify exemplary teaching skills and educational practices necessary to acquire and maintain excellence in teaching.
3. To assist novice teachers in the performance of their duties and adjustment to the challenges of teaching.

The Gloucester City School District aligned the above goals with the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers, the ESSA Key Elements of High Quality Professional Development, and state regulations.

The Gloucester City District Mentoring Plan complies with the State of New Jersey's requirement for the 20-day mentoring process for alternate route teachers. (See Section 7)

Section 4: Mentor Selection Criteria (6A: 9-8.4)

I. Guidelines for Selection of Mentors

A. Qualities of Effective Mentors

The qualities of effective mentors as identified by participants in mentoring programs nationwide may be organized into four general categories: attitude and character, professional competence and experience, communication skills, and interpersonal skills. Together with willingness to serve and the recommendations of colleagues, these characteristics comprise an inventory of the qualities of effective mentors.

1. Attitude and Character

The mentor should:

- a. be willing to be a role model for other teachers.
- b. exhibit strong commitment to the teaching profession.
- c. believe mentoring improves instructional practice.
- d. be willing to advocate on behalf of colleagues.
- e. be willing to receive training to improve mentoring skills.
- f. demonstrate a commitment to lifelong learning.
- g. be reflective and able to learn from mistakes.
- h. be eager to share information and ideas with colleagues.
- i. be resilient, flexible, persistent, and open-minded.
- j. enjoy new challenges and solving problems.
- k.

2. Professional Competence and Experience

The mentor should:

- a. be regarded by colleagues as an outstanding teacher.
- b. have excellent knowledge of pedagogy and subject matter.
- c. have confidence in his/her own instructional skills.
- d. feel comfortable being observed by other teachers.
- e. maintain a network of professional contacts.
- f. understand the policies and procedures of the school district and teachers' association.
- g. be a meticulous observer of classroom practice.
- h. collaborate well with other teachers and administrators.
- i. be willing to learn new teaching strategies from novices.
- j.

3. Communication Skills

The mentor should:

- a. be able to articulate effective instructional strategies.
- b. listen attentively.
- c. ask questions that prompt reflection and understanding.
- d. offer critiques in positive and productive ways.
- e. use e-mail effectively.
- f. be efficient with the use of time.
- g. convey enthusiasm and a passion for teaching.
- h. be discreet and maintain confidentiality.

Qualities of Effective Mentors (Continued)

4. Interpersonal Skills

The mentor should:

- a. be able to maintain a trusting professional relationship.

- b. know how to express care for a novice's emotional and professional needs.
- c. be attentive to sensitive political issues.
- d. work well with individuals from different cultures.
- e. be patient.

B. Eligibility Requirements for Mentor Teachers

The eligibility of teachers applying to serve as mentor teachers is based on criteria, which includes the following:

1. The teacher is tenured in the district and actively teaching; or in the event that such a teacher is unavailable, a certified teacher with at least three years of experience who is actively teaching in the district or a retired teacher or administrator that has worked two of the last five years may serve as a mentor teacher. Training will be provided in current educational practices for the retired teachers or administrators.
2. The teacher is committed to the goals of the local mentor program plan including respect for the confidential nature of the mentor teacher/novice teacher relationships.
3. The teacher has demonstrated exemplary command of content area knowledge and of pedagogy.
4. The teacher is experienced and certified in the subject area in which the novice teacher is teaching, where possible.
5. The teacher is knowledgeable about the social and workplace norms of the district board of education and the community the district board of education serves.
6. The teacher is knowledgeable about the resources and opportunities in the district and able to refer the novice teacher to them.
7. The teacher provides letters of recommendation as determined by the district mentor plan from those who are familiar with the mentor teacher applicant's work.
8. The teacher agrees to complete a comprehensive mentor-training program.

II. Application Process

- A. Mentor Teacher Candidate Completes Self-Survey Form
- B. Mentor Teacher Candidate Completes and Submits Application
- C. Application Reviewed by Appropriate Administrators
- D. Mentor Applicants are confirmed/denied
- E. Mentor Teacher Paired with Novice Teacher
- F. Mentor, Novice, and Principal meet to sign mentoring contract

Mentoring Contract

The mentoring contract brings together the mentor, the novice teacher, and the principal and spells out each person's responsibilities. When each person's responsibilities are faithfully discharged, children's education will be substantially enhanced. In addition, the experienced professionals, the mentor and the principal, make it clear that the novice teacher is a colleague, and that collegial relationship strengthens the education of the novice teacher's students.

The mentor and the novice teacher hereby agree:

- to develop a professional and collegial working relationship by discussion of expectations and by arriving at a mutual understanding about how to work together effectively.
- to keep all shared information and discussions confidential.

The mentor hereby agrees:

- to review the background of the novice teacher to provide the type and support indicated by this background.
- to attend all of the novice teacher's classes and provide the novice teacher with feedback, coaching, and support.
- to be available for informal support and consultation.

The novice teacher hereby agrees:

- to observe the mentor's teaching, as well as the teaching of other experienced professionals.
- to work on following the suggestions which the mentor makes.
- to seek of the mentor for answers to questions that may arise.
- to pay the state mandated mentoring fee.

The principal hereby agrees:

- to observe and evaluate the novice teacher.
- to provide support to both the mentor and the novice teacher.
- not to solicit evaluative comments from the mentor regarding the novice teacher.
- to allow the mentor up to five periods of release time to observe the novice teacher, if needed.
- to allow release time for the novice teacher to observe other teachers.

All the signers agree:

- To follow the New Jersey regulations for mentoring aligned with the NJ Professional Standards for Teachers as outlined in the district mentoring for quality induction program.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF MENTORS

All of the following roles and responsibilities are essential to ensure a successful experience for both the mentor and the novice teacher. The first five roles and responsibilities are required by the state regulations for mentoring.

State Regulations

A mentor must:

- participate in sustained, ongoing mentor training;
- make a commitment of time to the mentor-novice relationship over the required one-year mentoring period;
- establish regular weekly conferencing times to discuss novice teacher needs, provide ongoing support, and plan and reflect on classroom practices aligned with the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers and the New Jersey Student Learning Standards;
- maintain confidentiality for all mentor-novice activities;
- contribute to ongoing program evaluation.
- participate in training related to the skills associated with conferencing and feedback.

Additional Recommendations for Mentoring Quality Induction

A mentor should:

- assist the novice teacher in adjusting to, and becoming familiar with, the school culture, policy, procedures, resources, and personnel;
- meet, in person with their mentee, a minimum of two times per month.
- document mentoring activities and time;
- provide opportunities for the novice teacher to observe the mentor and other content experts;
- observe the novice teacher during the school year to provide feedback, teaching tips, guidance on curricular issues, and suggestions for classroom management
- be a model of professionalism;
- encourage the novice teacher to participate in collaborative professional learning activities, such as action research, team meetings, and reflective practice; and
- assist the novice teacher in understanding the importance of and receiving the benefits of the district's observation/evaluation procedures.

In addition to the mentor, other stakeholders will assist the novice teacher throughout the mentoring process. They are school leaders, other faculty members, the district board of education, the state board of education and professional educators associated with teaching universities. The table on the following page lists the responsibilities associated with each of these professionals.

Mentoring Process for Alternative Route Teachers

For those teachers who have completed Phase 1A of a regional training program prior to the start of their employment, 70 hours of professional learning opportunities will be provided:

- Monthly mentoring meetings designed to cover specific topics including, but not limited to, a review of the following: roles, responsibilities, rules and regulations regarding mentoring; the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers; peer observations and peer coaching; professional and home connections such as forms, communication, conferencing skills, confidentiality; differentiated instruction; standards, assessments, and rubrics; testing; and technology.
- Dependent upon grade level, teachers will review lesson planning, setting goals, meeting objectives, and program components with coaches, grade-level leaders, department heads, and/or administrators.
- Regularly scheduled interaction with mentor – one hour per week.
- Observation of veteran teachers (a minimum of one per marking period).
- Mentor to observe novice teacher and provide feedback (a minimum of three times per year).
- Meetings with support personnel to gain an overview of available services within the district. This includes: Child Study Team, Guidance, Nurse, Curriculum Director, various administrators, member of the Intervention and Referral Services Team, and other appropriate individuals dependent upon supports available in the building.
- Meeting with building disciplinarian to review district policy.
- Content area, curriculum, and curriculum mapping training as needed.
- Participation in district in-service activities relative to grade level and content area.
- Informal conferencing with mentor.
- Technology training including, but not limited to, the use of on-line curriculum site, student testing data information, district web page, creation of teacher page and available classroom technology.

For those teachers who have not completed Phase 1A of a regional training program the following experiences will be added to the above-mentioned professional learning opportunities:

- Summer introductory in-service activities (3 days)
- Content area program/curriculum training
- District and state assessment training
- Orientation with building principal

The above learning components, utilized during novice training by the Gloucester City School District, meet the guidelines for ESSA, the New Jersey Professional Standards for Teachers and are aligned with the New Jersey Student Learning Standards.

Funding Resources

Gloucester City School District allocates sufficient personnel time and fiscal resources to enable the mentoring for quality induction programs to deliver planned services that maximize novice teacher success. In addition to ESSA funds, the district will provide additional funding as needed, to support the successful implementation of the mentor program.

Ongoing Evaluation

Evaluation of the district mentoring plan is ongoing. After each formal professional development activity participants complete a workshop evaluation form. Regularly scheduled small group discussion meetings of teachers will support the new strategies, techniques and their implementation in the instructional setting. Instructional Coaches will provide additional support in the form of modeling, team teaching and peer observations. Administration will monitor the staff's progress through discussions, observations, and evaluations.

To further evaluate the mentoring program, an on-line survey for data collection and tabulation will be administered to ensure that every staff member has the opportunity to be an active participant in setting our district's goals for mentoring. Additional feedback will come directly from the novice and mentor teachers utilizing separate questionnaires that focus directly on the activities and learning programs used throughout the year.

Preparation for next year's plan for mentoring will reflect the continued focus and refinement of the current model. All staff maintain an on-line professional development portfolio; this serves as the foundation for reflection of past activities and a view to future professional development. Utilizing research-based methods and data provided by current mentoring components and student assessment, informed decisions will be made for future mentor professional development based upon challenges that arose during this year's plan.
